

TRACIE

HEALTHCARE EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS
INFORMATION GATEWAY

Emergency Management Program
Topic Collection
11/3/2015

Topic Collection: Emergency Management Program

Complying with standards and becoming accredited demonstrate the solid foundation of emergency management and first responder plans and programs. The following resources highlight select standards, regulation, and accreditation programs that can help healthcare preparedness professionals bolster the foundation of their programs and plans.

This ASPR TRACIE Topic Collection is in the process of being developed and comprehensively reviewed. If you have resources to recommend for inclusion in this Topic Collection, specifically illustrative examples, plans, tools or templates, please email your recommendations to askasprtracie@hhs.gov.

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. (n.d.). Regulations and Guidance. (Accessed 11/3/2015.)

This website includes links to regulations and guidance for 16 types of healthcare providers (e.g., ambulance services, hospice, hospitals, and rural health clinics).

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. (2013). Emergency Preparedness Standards for Medicare and Medicaid Participating Providers and Suppliers.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services proposed this rule to establish consistent emergency preparedness requirements for health care providers participating in Medicare and Medicaid.

Det Norske Veritas. (2011). Standard for Hospitals.

Det Norske Veritas provides standards under 27 categories that hospitals should comply with to improve quality and safety management.

Emergency Management Accreditation Program. (2013). The Emergency Management Standard. [PG1]

This document lists the 64 standards EMAP uses to evaluate programs.

Emergency Management Accreditation Program. (2014). Steps to Accreditation.

The Emergency Management Accreditation Program lists the five steps to becoming an accredited program.

The Joint Commission. (n.d.). Emergency Management Standards. (Accessed 5/7/2015.)

The Joint Commission identifies standards hospital emergency planners should strive to include in their Emergency Operations Plans.